The Board of Education, District #201, included: (Bottom Row) Miss Ruth Fincke, secretary, Mr. George Nold, Mr. Leonard Moore. (Top Row) Mr. Herbert Baum, Mr. Waldo Tisch, Mr. Don Muendlein, and Mr. Rogers

Jones, attorney. Missing when the picture was taken were Mr. Edward Burris and Mr. Vernon Eckert.

Year after year the administration works as a team

The chief concern of District #201 was to establish goals for the school in keeping with a directive from the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction at Springfield. A steering committee coordinated the work of departments and individual faculty to accomplish a set of practical objectives for the district.

Keeping school in order is job of many people

The campus personnel are working daily behind the scenes. Whether we realize it or not, they help us through our day. Our day ends at 3:30 but they work on in the offices, the cafeteria, and the classrooms, getting ready for the next day.

A necessary part of each home basketball game is the sweeping up of the playing floor by one of our custodians.

A favorite food in the cafeteria is french fries, prepared on the spot by our cafeteria staff.

Preparing and serving meals in the cafeteria all year were:

Muckenstrum, Luella Harmon, Georgiana Lauf, Loel Isselhardt, Velma Reeble, Carol Toenjes, Darlene Wurdinger, and Dan Patrick.

The custodial staff included Gene Lopez, assistant engineer, Al Rapp, John Klee, Vernon Beaumont, head engineer, Georgianna Reuss, Al Sink, Ed Chinn, Vernon Fohl, and Wayne Groh.

Sophomores learned the basics of biology.

Natural science classes studied features of the earth.

Science demands deep thought

Human anatomy and physiology was a new course set up for seniors which dealt with the study of body organs and their functions. Other courses available for study were advanced biology, chemistry, physical science, ecology, nature science, physics, and sophomore biology. This year the ecology classes began using the textbook written by their instructor, Mr. Gary Tweston.

Chemistry students learned about molecules and atoms.

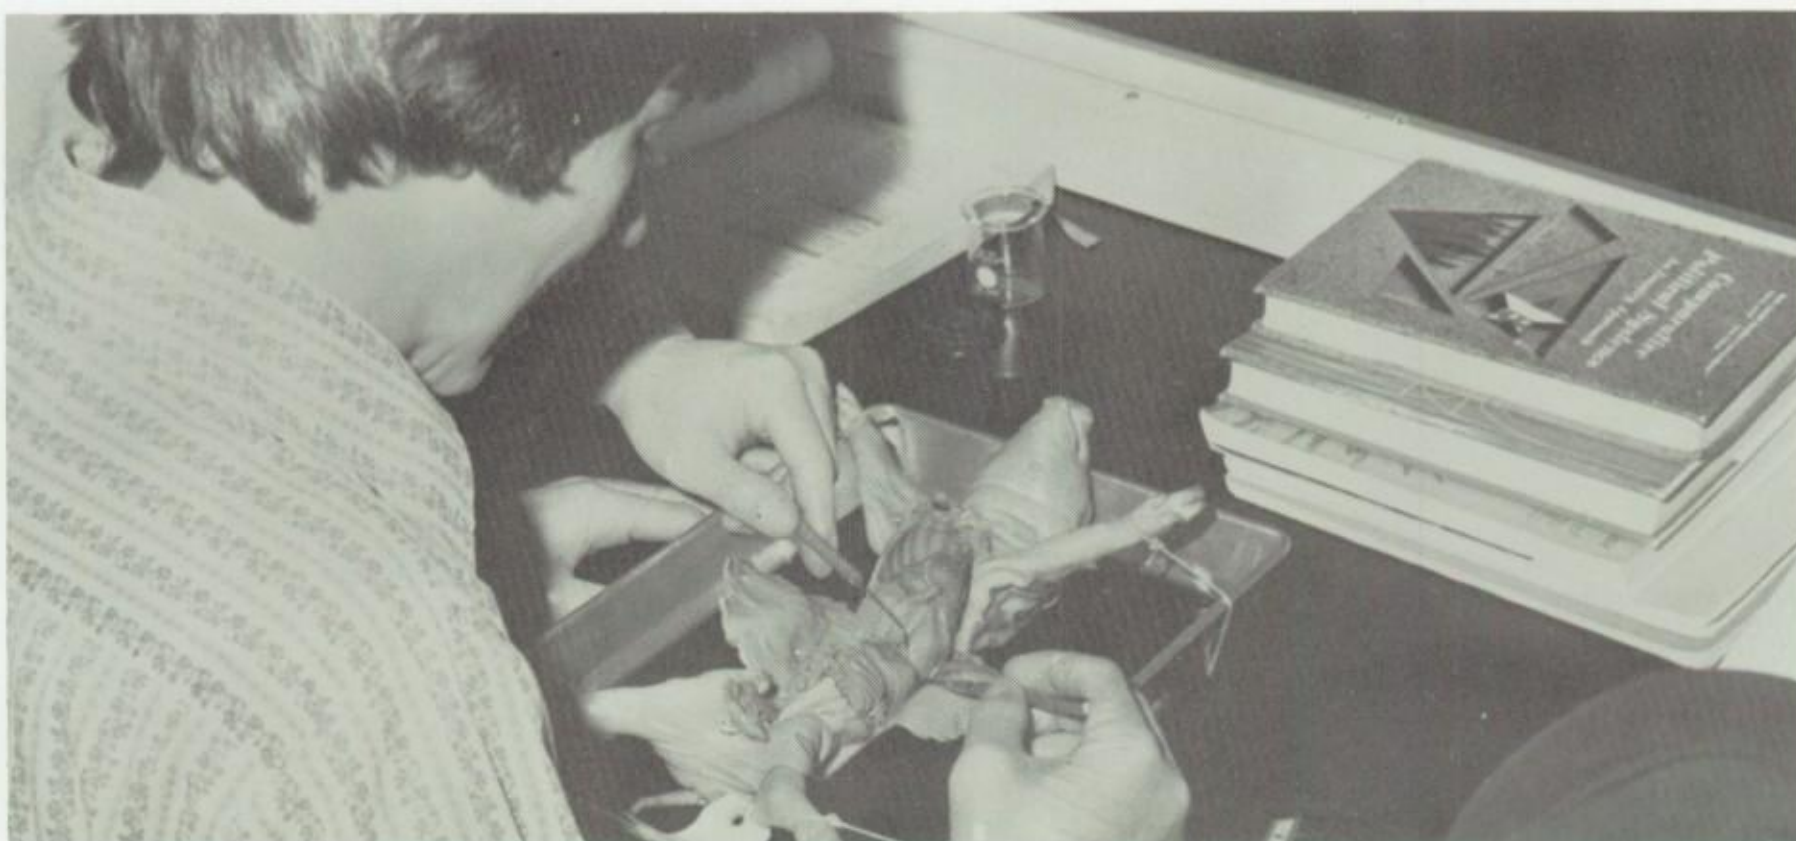

Physics and chemistry were combined as a course.

Mr. Tweston and his ecology class studied ways to preserve nature.

The second floor of the Science-Library Building was a busy place. Students worked hard on experiments and projects, with chemistry students constantly surprised by the outcome of their experiments. Physics students studied the laws of nature while those in ecology learned the use of nature, from catching fish to recognizing different types of leaves.

George Sotiropoulos used his talents in dissecting a fetal pig.

Physics students worked with electronic equipment.

In anatomy students learned parts and functions of the body.

Civics classes were marked by the traditional newscast, done here by Kathy Jordon.

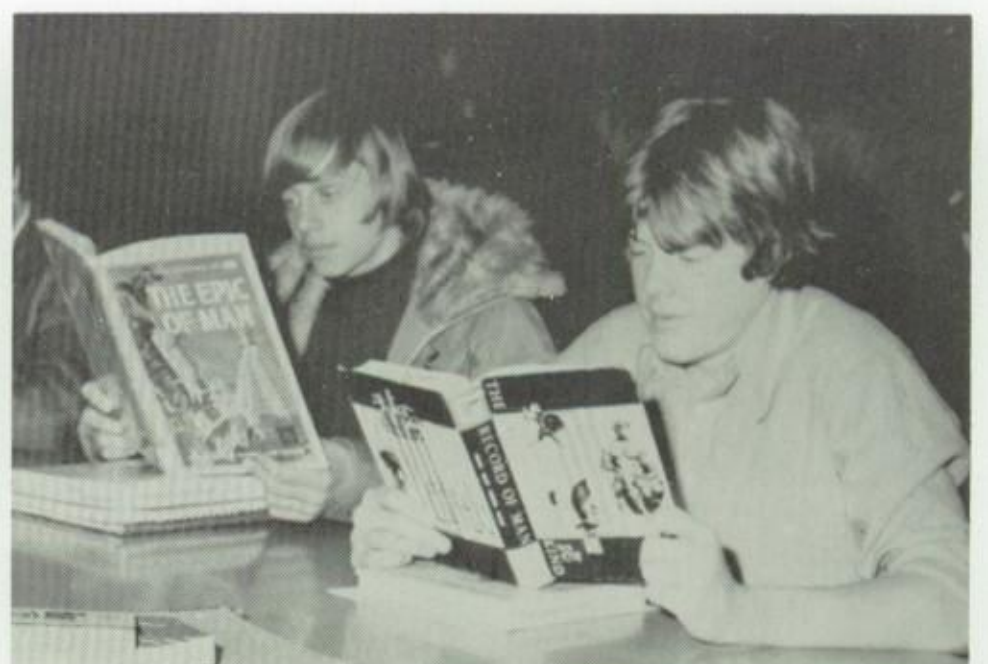

Social studies helped us to meet and deal with personal and social adjustment. In freshman civics and senior government courses we learned about the democratic processes. Juniors had a choice of ten-week history courses, ranging from colonial life to nuclear age. Upperclassmen studied the behavior of society and of man as an individual in sociology and psychology.

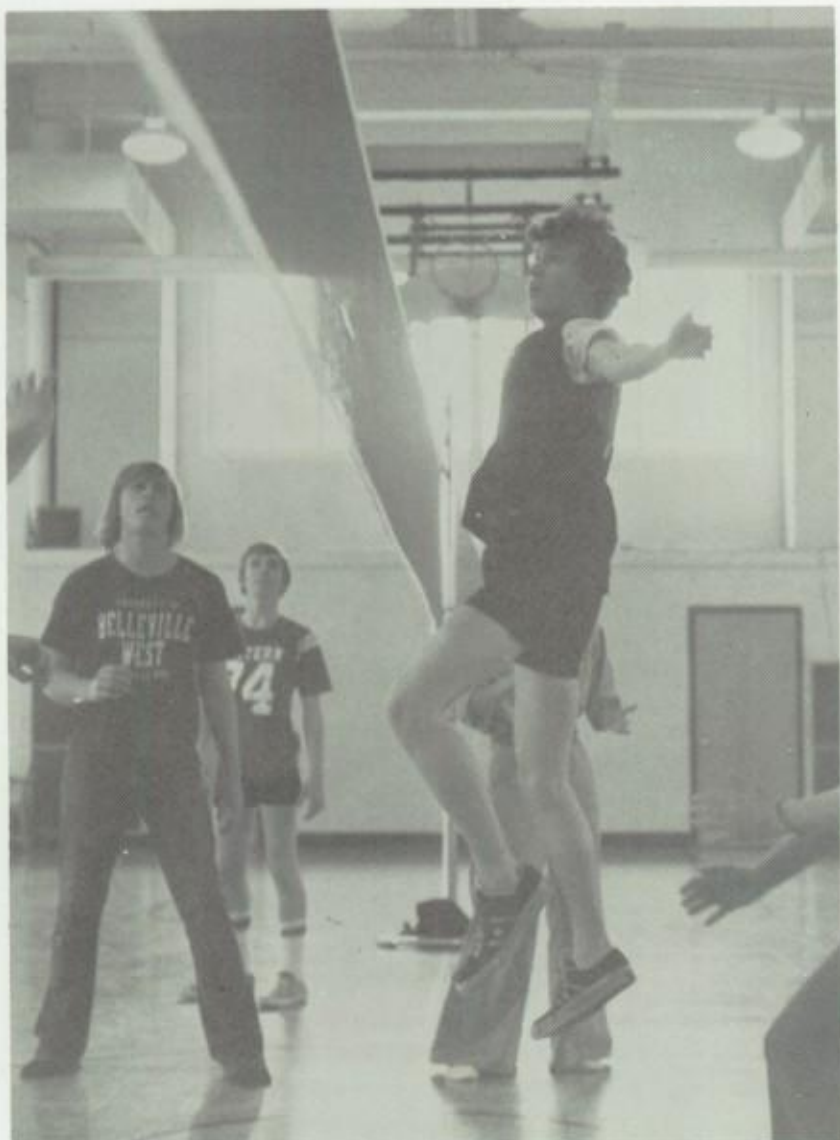

The dreaded time in every class — Test Time!

Student/teacher communication is vital.

Warren Sisk and Joe Young found library materials helpful in history.

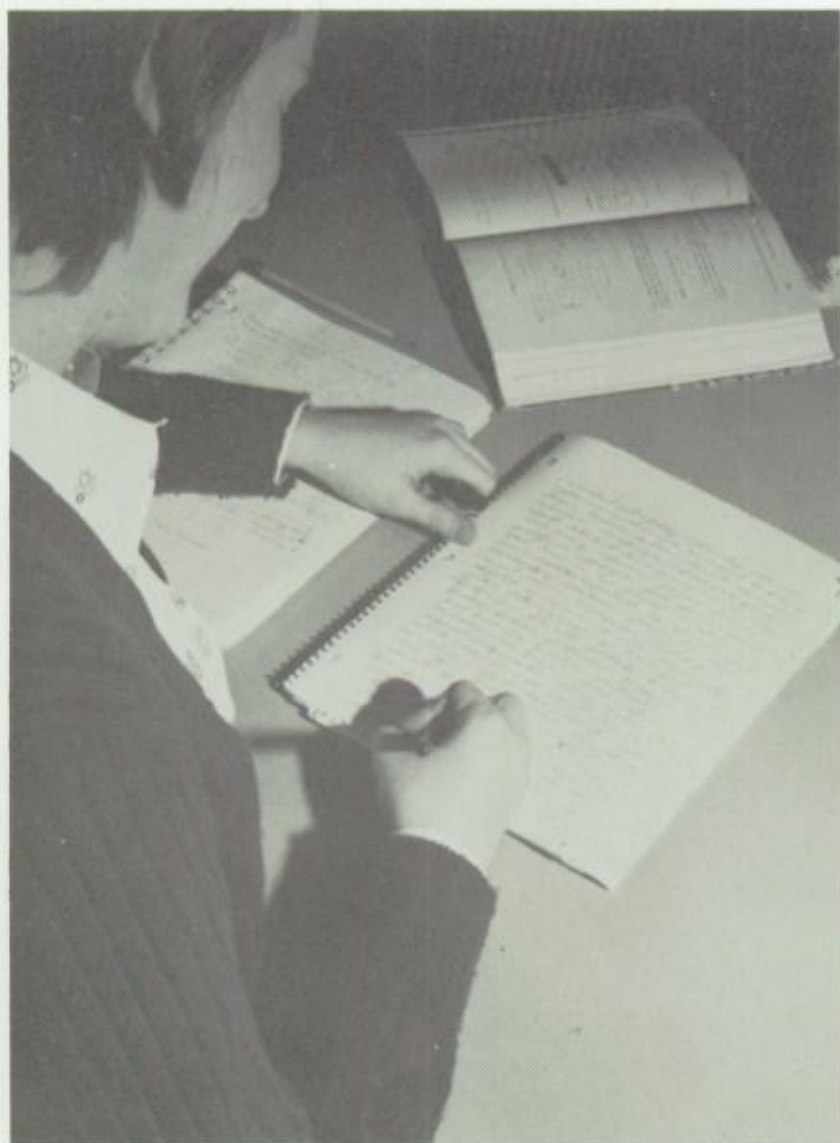

Going up for the ball is Dennis Feazel at the volleyball marathon.

Various projects of social studies students were displayed throughout the school.

Tomorrow's answers in yesterday and today

Showing a deep concern in the world, many students worked together to improve their environment. In addition to the annual civics class drive for a needy family, this Christmas the classes in American problems raised money for the one hundred neediest families in the area, a fund sponsored by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Money came from bake sales, a volleyball marathon lasting ten hours, and a balloon-blowing contest. They solved at least one small problem by donating a total of four hundred dollars to the fund.

Being a student in a Famous Americans class meant writing many papers.

Studying with the use of head phones were Mike Knave, Wade Wilkin, and Bill Hoffeditz.

French students Vicki Russel, Anne Suppiger, and Sue Roberts displayed their acting and speaking abilities by performing skits before the class.

Third year Spanish students concentrated on a new area of study, the country and its people.

German, French and Spanish students celebrated Mardi Gras.

A variety of choices in any language

Parlez-vous francais? Sprechen Sie Deutsch? Habla usted espanol? or maybe Latin? Learning to speak the language was only one aspect of our foreign language classes. Studies also involved the people and their culture. This knowledge was gained through field trips, films, and camping trips.

Learning through the posters they made, Latin students furthered their knowledge of the language.

Students such as Dana Graebe, Tim Katzmark and Lisa Huffer enjoyed reading modern American literature.

There was a little something for everybody in our English Department. As our interests varied so did the English courses we could choose. For those who liked to read there were classes in individualized reading, world literature, Shakespeare and literature of the Bible. If one's interests lay in writing there were classes in composition, creative writing, journalism, and mechanics of writing. Speech classes were taught in the areas of debate and public speaking. Science fiction and supernatural literature entertained the occult-minded while our future stars learned of the theatre in Theatre Arts. These were only a few of the wide variety of English electives.

A new book of unbelievable happenings captured the attention of Milton Wiley, Wally Bergman, and Gloria Determan in a class of the supernatural.

Advanced Reading Techniques student Kathy Smetana bettered her reading skills through the use of SRA materials.

A Seminar in Ideas class discussed everything from Watergate to the energy crisis.

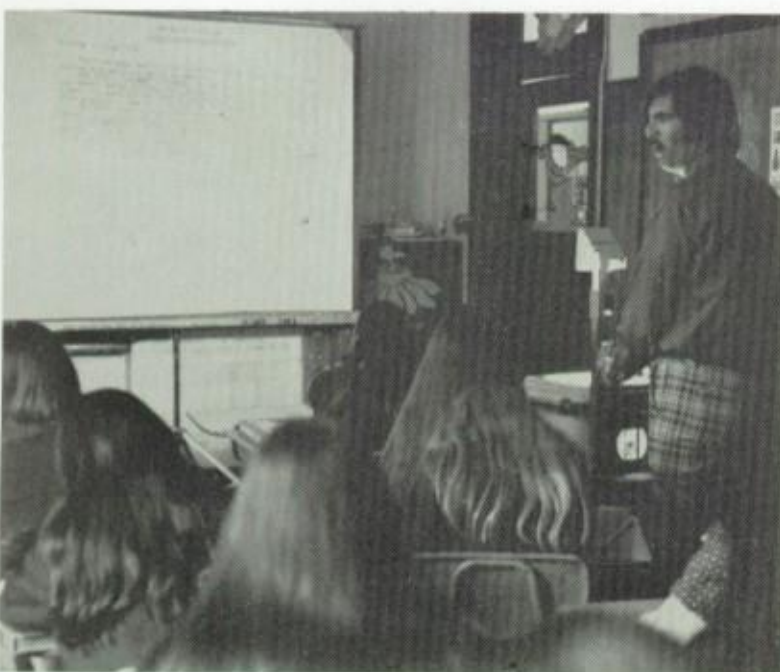

A pretest helped students to study for chapter tests.

Opportunities lie ahead

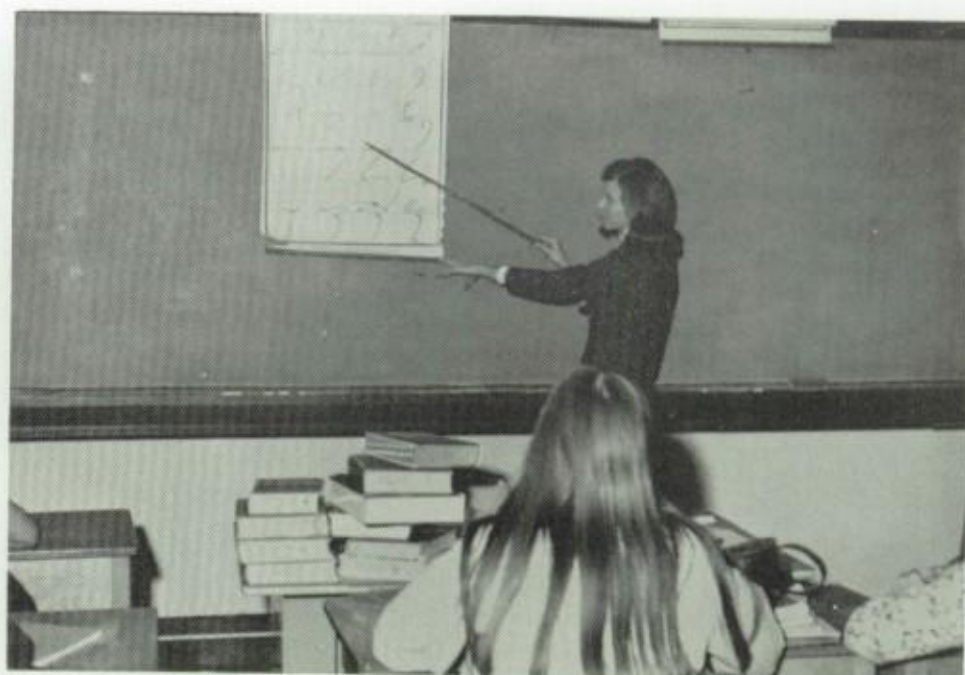

Business courses stressed the traits needed for success. Students took a variety of courses to prepare for future employment or to find part-time jobs while in college. They also found help in typing papers, balancing budgets, and using shorthand notes.

Students searched for differences in the many brands on the market.

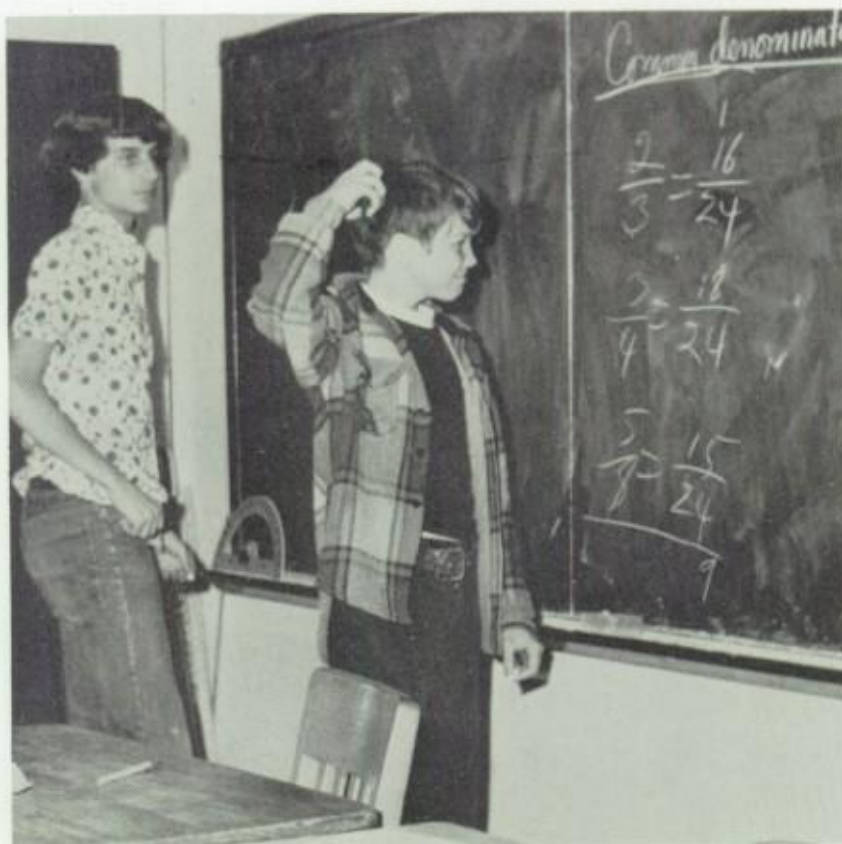

An overhead projector helped to clarify business principles.

Shorthand was easier with the aid of charts.

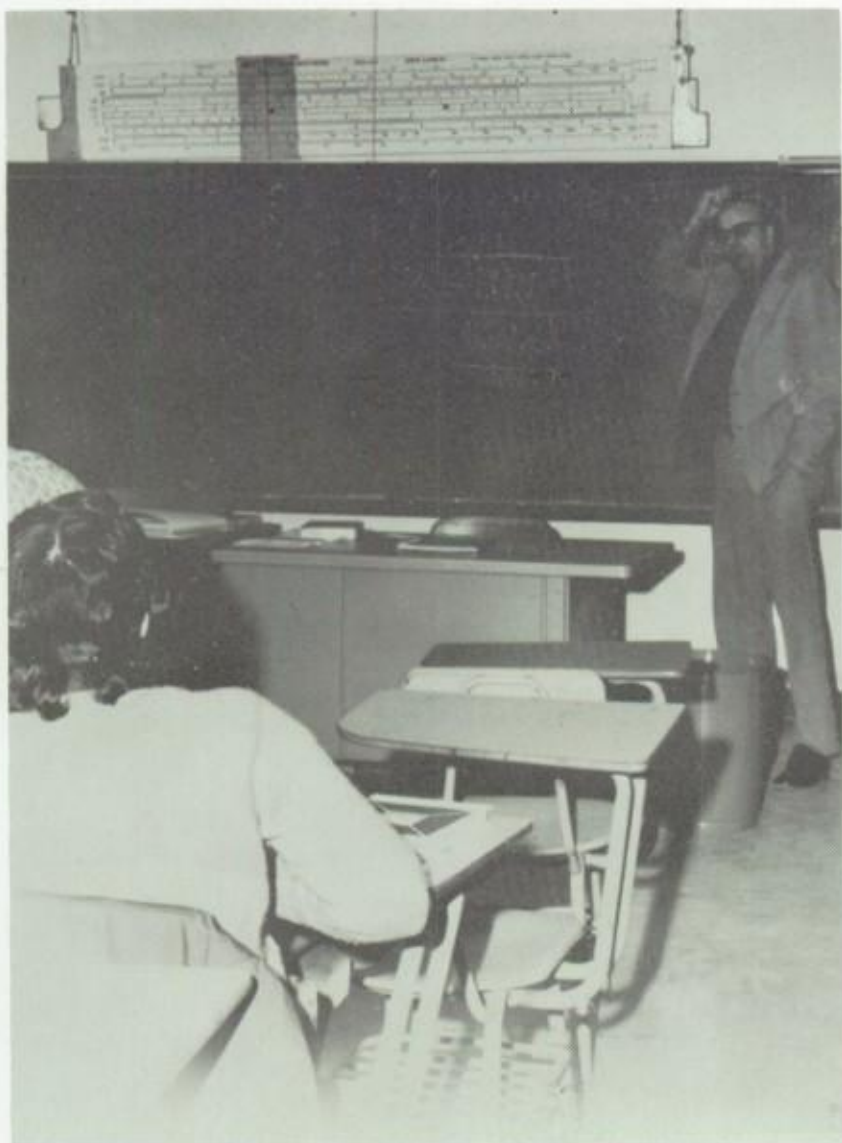

As problems arose, so did the student-teacher relationship.

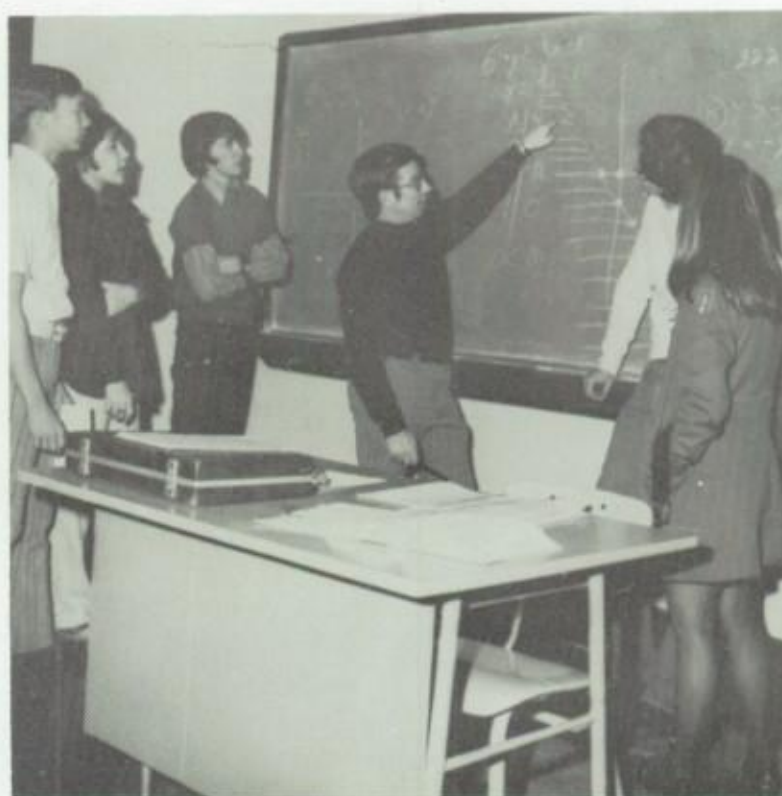

Students needed to know basic principles before attempting higher math.

Math poses problems

Math with its formulas, theorems, and statistics intrigued the mind and helped one to reason. In courses from the freshman to the senior level students worked problems which ranged from figuring the price of groceries to operating high speed computers.

Students found the formulas harder than they had expected!

Math comes a little easier with the help of the teacher.

Mechanical drawing requires a lot of special drawing utensils.

Machine shop calls for some close studies of the equipment.

Welding is a class in which a person can create his metallic dreams.

Shop classes help pave a better road for the future . . .

The paper, gasoline, and oil shortages have affected many people this past year. However West did not suffer as much from these shortages as from our own shortages. In the shop classes the only shortage was the lack of machinery in contrast to the number of willing students. However, once in the shop classes the students did not lack enthusiasm and interest in learning new skills.

From the beginning courses in general shop, shop math, and vocational agriculture to advanced courses in architectural design, electricity and mechanics, students were trained in skills for the future as well as for the present.

Architectural drawing presents both problems and enjoyment.

Wood shop provided new furniture pieces for collection.

Shops were busy

The industrial classes taught skills for the present as well as for the future. Auto shop helped keep auto repair bills down and cars in good shape. Wood shop students made furniture, such as bookcases, gunracks, jewelry boxes, and bird houses.

Shop classes taught something for everyday living. With the help of teachers, students learned the meaning of team work.

While some had problems in auto shop others laughed them off.

Students study the principles of electricity.

Industrial arts creates a world

The Industrial Education Department has been offering many more courses than most students realize. Subjects ranged from auto shop and welding to mechanical drawing. From the back of the stadium came the "buzz" of the welding equipment and the "roar" of the motor.

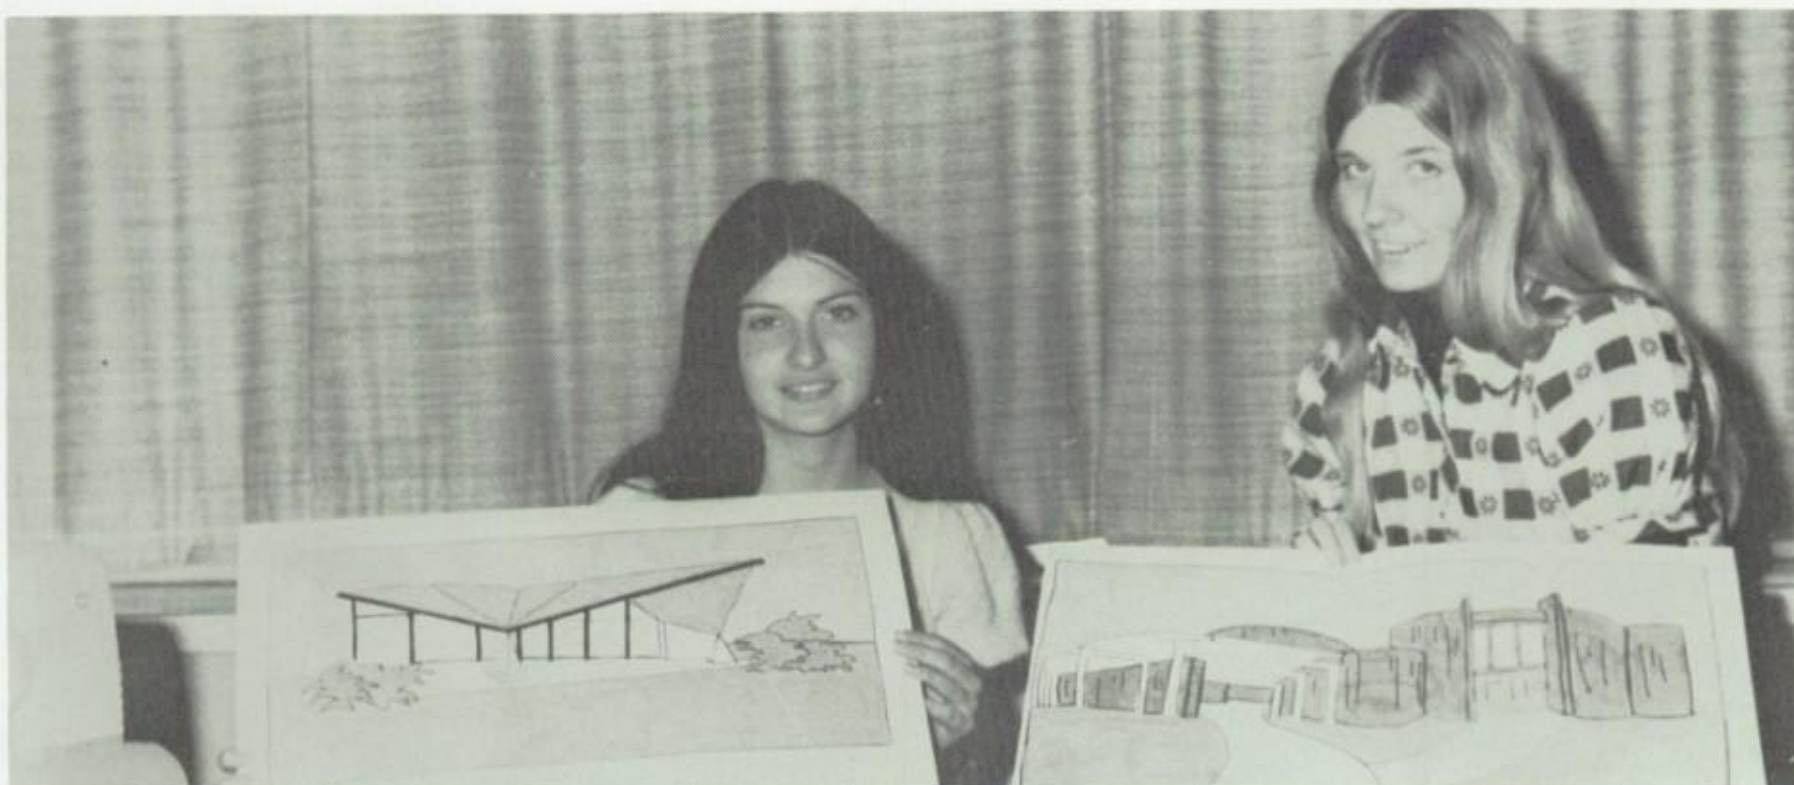

Although only five girls took the courses offered by this department, they found them very challenging.

As students add to the campus, so do plants.

Examining the plants in Horticulture Class are Christy Toenjes and Sue Schmidt.

Mary McGraw and Gloria Biley examine pictures as they dream about their future homes.

Homemaking is vital

From the home economics area on the first floor of the Main Building came the painful cries caused by the burned fingers of cooks, the questioning hum of the sewing room learners wondering how they could make such mistakes, and the "oohs" and "aahs" echoing from girls planning weddings and their future homes.

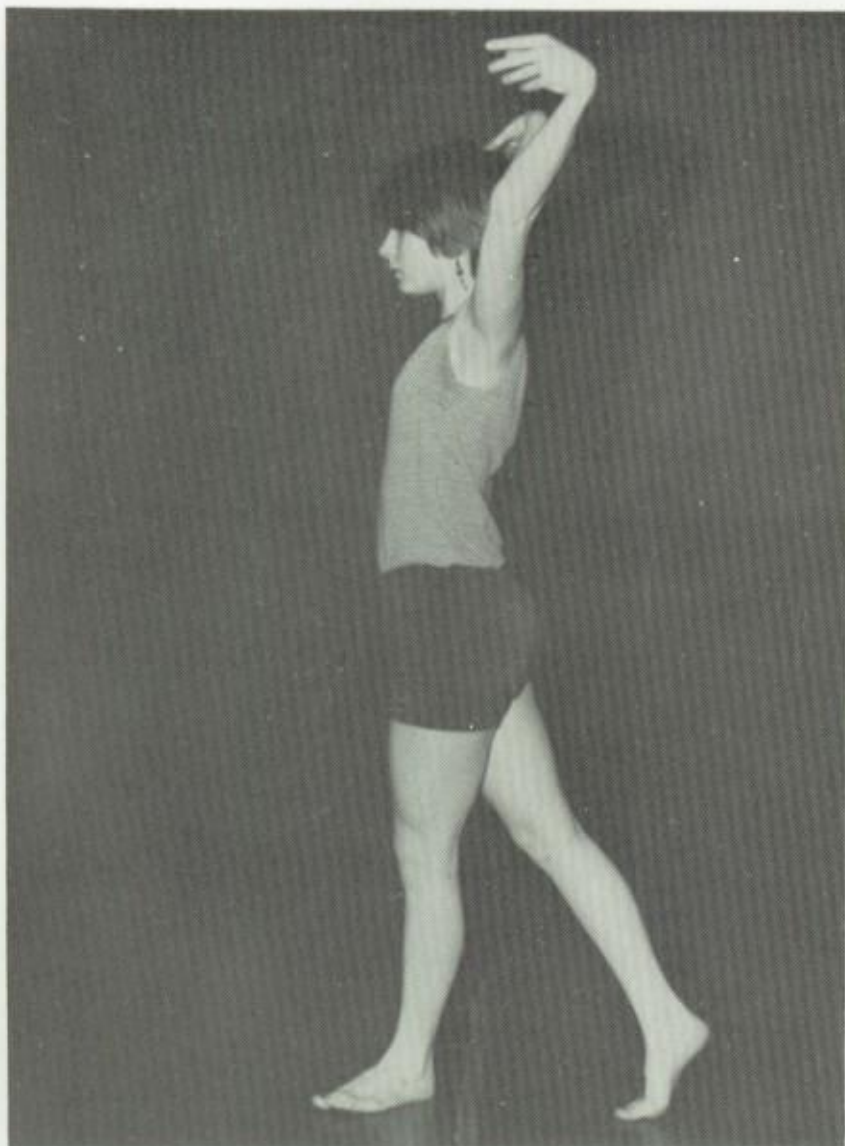

The homemaking curriculum covered not only cooking, sewing, nutrition, and family living, but housing and meal planning.

Planning a wedding is a big step in a girl's life.

Planning a meal is a much harder task than it seems to be.

Having choreographed her own floor routine, Lynn Muren performed it in front of her class.

Freshman girls executed their skills in volleyball.

Exercise for physical and mental health

The greatest lesson learned in physical education was cooperation. In gym classes the individual became part of a team. Quick thinking and coordination were essential in a range of sports such as soccer, field hockey, badminton, tumbling, weightlifting, and tennis. P.E. was an outlet for the everyday routine. After all, what would the day be without a cold locker room and an even colder shower?

The warning signs of cancer were the topic of discussion in health classes.

Coach Carr shows the girls how to leap over the hurdles.

Girls proved to be as successful as the boys in softball.

Ten weeks of the freshman year was devoted to the study of health. Then came the first step into adulthood — drivers' education! During the semester the aspiring driver spent time in classroom instruction for highway safety, with the simulator, and then, behind the wheel! After completion of the course, the future driver should be ready for proper handling of a car.

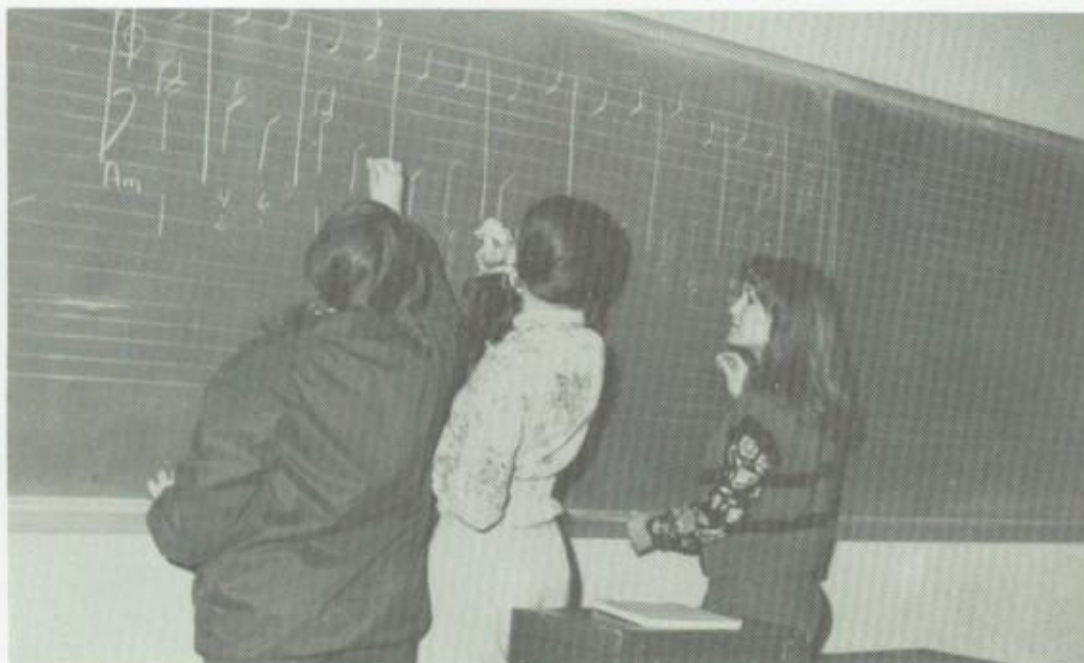

Mrs. Patt Snelson's 6th hour P.E. class stretched in the warm afternoon sun.

Experience in the simulator was more real than was expected.

Most any hour boys could be found running the track.

Board exercises helped students in Music Theory.

Whether one could sing or not there was someplace for him in music. Freshmen girls' and mixed chorus, sophomore girls' and mixed chorus, merri tones, girls' glee, the choralettes, the choraleers, various ensembles, and the concert choir were our vocal groups.

Instrumental groups consisted of the orchestra, the chamber orchestra, the symphonette, the cadet band, the stage band, and the marching band.

Music Theory was offered to interested students.

The Concert Choir practiced every day the fifth hour to the tune of Mr. Jones' hickory stick.

Freshmen Chorus — the first step on the way to bigger and better things.

Tie-dyeing in Art I and II classes was just one more way to express ourselves.

Making and wearing your own creations was part of Jewelry Design classes.

Talents put to use in many ways

Creative talents were put to use in many different areas. As a pre-requisite for all art-related courses, a student had to have taken Art I and II. Specialized areas were ceramics, jewelry design and painting.

Painting students enhanced the southwest wall of the south side of the cafeteria by creating a twelve-foot by eight-inch mural of Raggedy Ann and Andy.

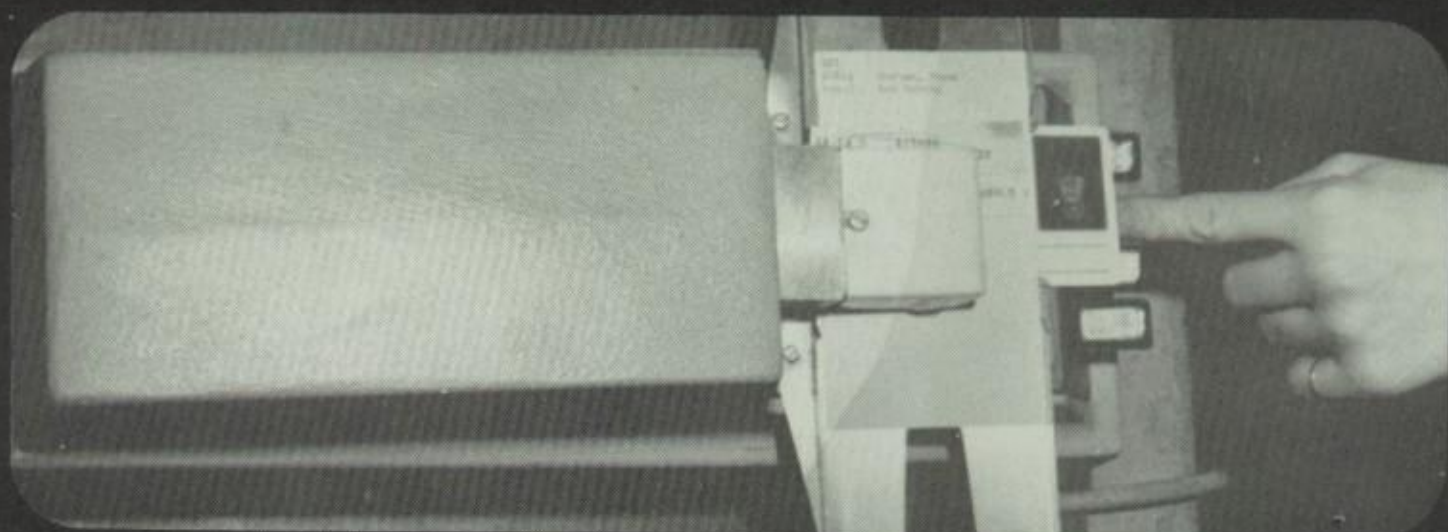

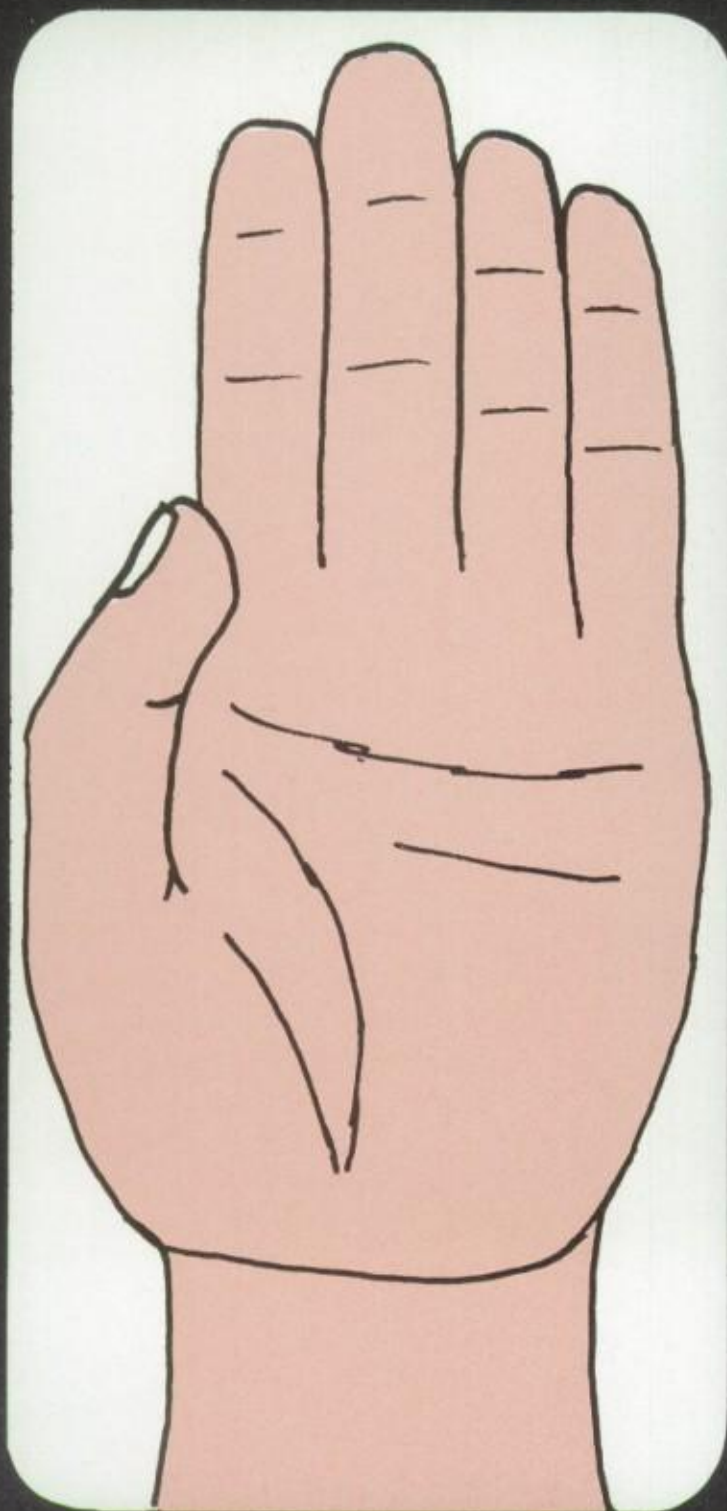

A current and future artist displayed her talents.

Talented fingers produce great works.

Assemblies entered the school curriculum as West's little refresher course. These gatherings offered a welcome break from the rigor of the 8:30-3:30 work day and provided an outlet for the students' "energy surplus." Ranging in location from the open-air football stadium to the auditorium, assemblies served as an informational as well as an entertaining means of communicating with the entire student body.

Energy Saving Time casts a shadow on first hour.

The brainstorm of a member of the 1929 faculty gave birth to what would become a traditional spirit event. The idea was borrowed from a school in southern Missouri and Maroon fans recognized the school activity as "HOBO DAY". West's homecoming substitute contained the necessary ingredients for reinforcing the excitement of the "Turkey Day" game.

Several variations were installed in "Hobo Day's" forty-fifth anniversary celebration. In preparation for the bout with the Flyers, students participated in spirit events spanning three days. A tug-of-war raged between the classes of Monday but terminated later in the week because of a split decision (the rope broke). Nostalgic figures cruised about the campus the following day, resembling teeny-boppers of the '50's era. Organizations competed in a hall decorating contest in an effort to pep up the buildings. The festivities reached a climax at the "Hobo Day" pep rally. Sparks generated by the Stage Band's performance and the Little Theatre skit ignited the crowd's enthusiasm. Spirit mounted as costumed teachers vied for applause and students anticipated the victors of the hall decoration and Miss Maroon contests. The parade of players and floats chased by "hobos" provided a welcomed energy release following the assembly. In lieu of the old Court House finale, the procession terminated with the selection of winning floats and club mini-floats on the city parking lot.

Forty-five may seem middle age but Hobo Day has met its day. The gleam of the "Turkey Day Game" has been tarnished by the new state play-offs. Irregular scheduling of the Maroon-Flyer match will prevent the annual post-holiday exchange of the Alton-Southern victory bell. The natural rivalry between the two schools is gone, and why should students "dress up" as hobos when a demolished dress code permits this attire every day.

What will take its place? Only '75 will tell.

A fifteen-foot snowman curses the "abominable" school days to be made up in June.

Students pondered the impossible task of controlling the climate and considered another alternative, deciding "weather" or not the West grounds could be reached safely. Conscientious pupils dashed to classes between raindrops, glided across icy pavement, and formed depressions in the snow with their footprints in an effort to attend the learning institution at 2600 West Main. A record fourteen-inch snowfall painted a classic winter scene, enclosing the campus in a white-frosted frame. Rock salt-sowing custodians cleared contrasting paths of concrete from the fluffy blanket overlaying the grounds. The Yuletide spirit overwhelmed the administration; as a result of the snowy surprise, school was dismissed at 1:30 on December 19th and everyone received a two-day extension on their Christmas holiday.

CONSTRUCTIVE ORGANIZATIONS

Student government in action

Acting as a liaison between the student body and the administration, the Student Council had sixty-one members, which included four officers and eleven representatives from each class and the foreign exchange student. Elected by fellow classmates, Council members endeavored to bring faculty and students closer together. Students were encouraged to get involved with Council and were invited to attend the meetings.

Many new programs were initiated by the Student Council. These included a nostalgic revival of the 50's, a hall-decorating contest, and an intra-city workshop with the other Belleville high schools. A committee to study the feasibility and promote girls' sports was also formed after the IHSA ruling.

Familiar Council activities were Hobo Day, the Football Frolic, dances, Foster Child program, balloon sales, the faculty babysitter list, magazine drive, and Arbor Day

Hy News rated "All-American"

Working to meet the deadline, Mark Allard and Tom Berry make last-minute corrections on their stories.

For the fourth time in West's history, the Hy News received an "All-American" rating in late March. Graded on coverage, content, writing, editing, editorials, and appearance, the Hy News scored well in all categories and achieved the highest award presented by the National Scholastic Press Association.

Selling ads, laying out pages, interviewing, writing, typing, pasting up, stuffing, and selling; these were just some of the jobs performed by the twenty-nine members of the staff which achieved the All-American rating.

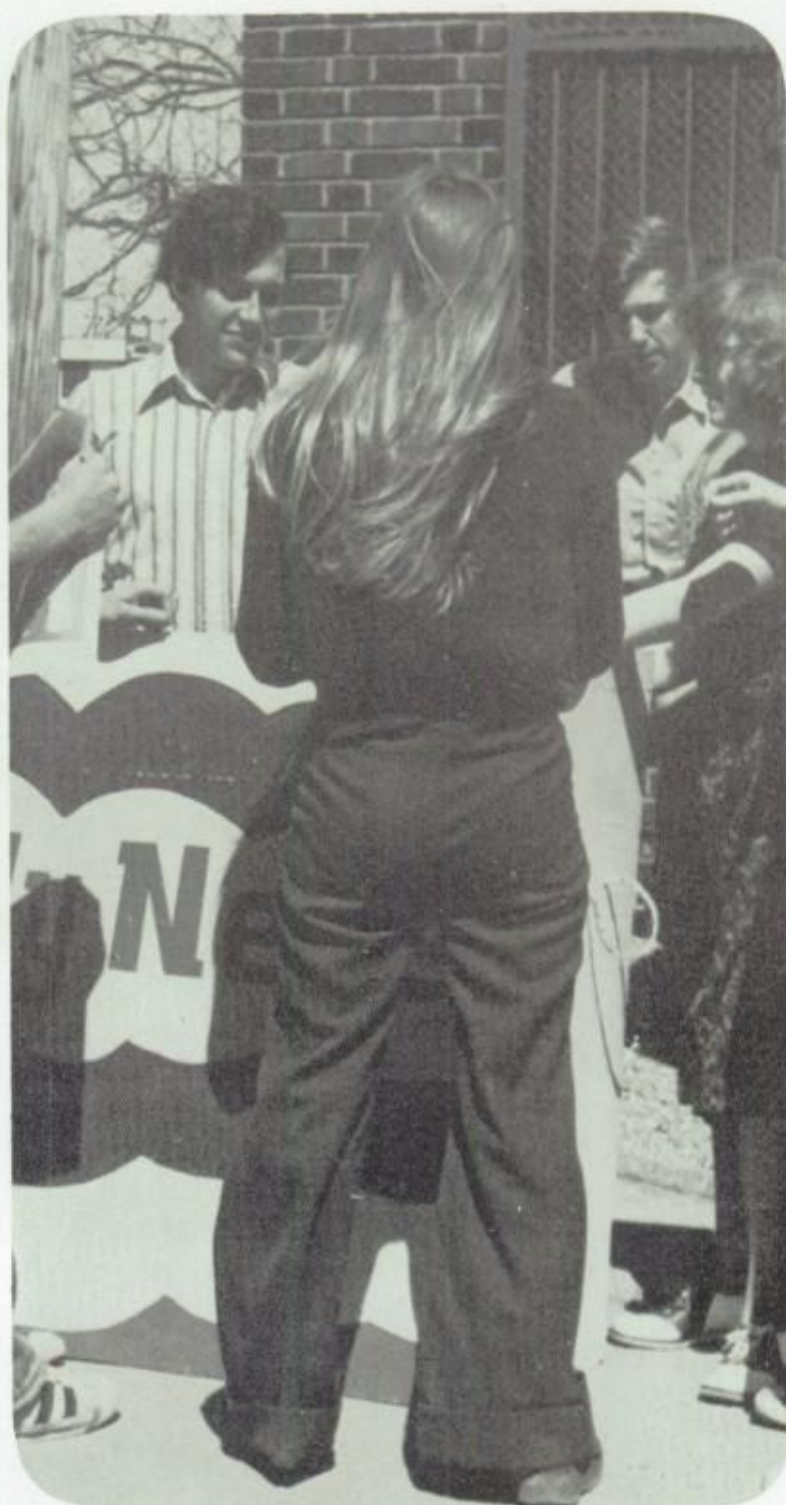

Dedicated to their purpose of informing students, faculty, parents, alumni, and any interested readers about significant aspects of school life and community developments related to the school, staff members were assigned to various positions, such as editors, managers, and reporters, to keep the publication running smoothly.

The six-page production was published twelve times during the school year. Features of the paper included a "syndicated" column, letters to the editor, and original cartoons.

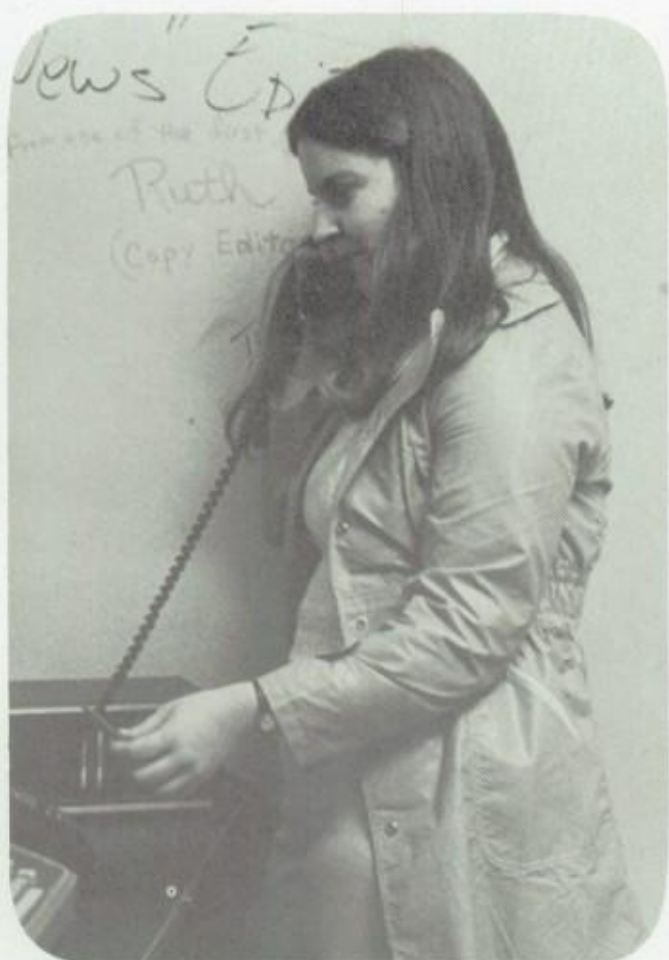

In May, staff members and their adviser attended a field day at SIU-Carbondale, sponsored by the Southern Illinois School Press Association. Many members were recognized and received awards for their contributions.

Dave Smith, sports editor, looks over the assignment board to determine what's happening.

Attempting to raise money to cover the costs of publication, Margaret Conrath and Mike Rogger take their posts at the selling booth.

Sneaking a peek into a staff meeting, one finds the entire staff working together to produce the school newspaper.

It's a small, small world

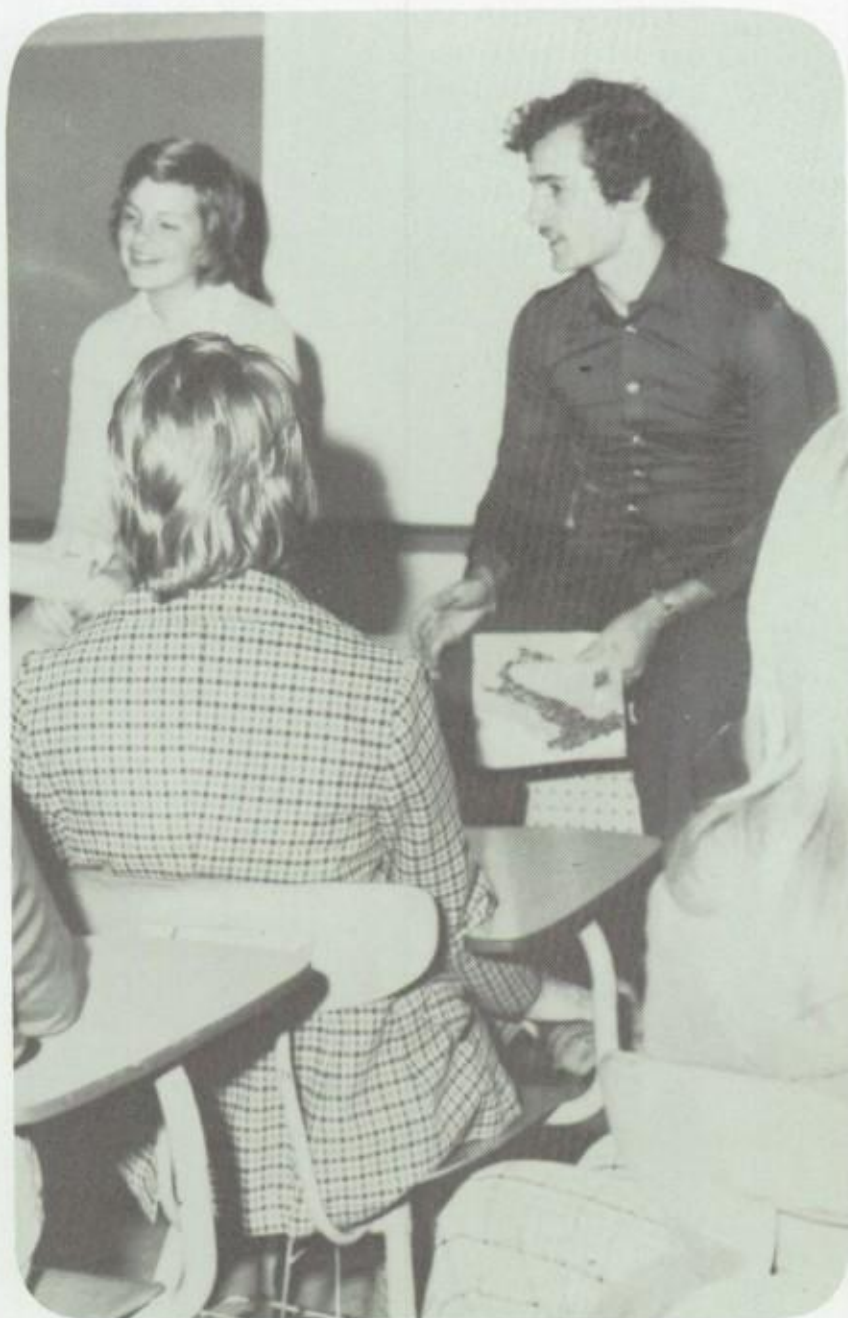

Jurgen Stolz and Judy Tonne discovered music to be an international language.

The American Field Service sponsored by Miss Sue Sharp, brings a foreign exchange student to West. The club was formed after World War I for peace and it is still accomplishing its purpose. This year's exchange student, Jurgen Stolz, came from Germany and lived with the Alvin Tonne family. The club paid for part of Jurgen's stay here and for extra things needed by him.

The latter part of the year was a busy one for the group. Their activities included such activities as East's foreign exchange student, Georgio Palucci, showing slides of his home country, Italy, AFS week which included an auction, a Fair, a baking contest and the selling of stocks to raise enough money for next year's exchange student. A new addition to the stock card this year was Jurgen's address for anyone interested in writing him.

Jurgan and his American family: Mr. Alvin Tonne, Judy, Jurgan and their poodle. Missing from the picture was Mrs. Tonne.

After heavy screening, it was "Bon Voyage" to Allison Parks, our summer exchange student.

Jurgan's talent in photography enabled him to remember West with his many photographs.

National Honor Society elects new members

The National Honor Society consisted of forty-eight juniors and sixty-three seniors. Juniors had to obtain a 3.8 average at the end of five semesters and seniors had to have a 3.5 average at the end of seven semesters. Out of the one-hundred and eleven members, twenty-six members had a 4.0 average. Members were not elected only by grade points but they are recommended by faculty members on their character, service and leadership to the school. The Chapter is sponsored by Mr. Harris Tollefson and co-sponsored by Mr. Harold Limper, Mrs. Cecilia Hepp and Miss Eda Morgan.

Scholar Quiz team had a 1-1 record

After three weeks of tryouts, fifteen students participated in the final tryout for a position on the Scholar Quiz team. A committee of five faculty members, using questions from specialized areas of knowledge, chose six finalists. These six worked together for a month and then elected the four to represent West in the "Scholar Quiz," aired on Sundays by KMOX-TV, Channel 4. In the first contest West with a total score of 153 defeated Kennedy High School, 102, and Metro High, 79. But West went down to Prep South, 57 to 340, at the match in March.

Literary talents are also extracurricular

The Rough Writers promoted student interest in literary works of all kinds. Their biggest project of the year was the annual publication of "Page One". "Page One" is a collection of the finest manuscripts submitted by students, including poems, short stories, essays, and art. The Rough Writers met monthly in members' homes to critique these manuscripts. To finance "Page One" a Book Fair was held February 14-16 in the cafeteria foyer.

Using his manly strength, Tom Hollinberger works at the Rough Writers' Book Fair.

The Southwestern State and Local History Club, sponsored by Mr. Vince Torigian, encouraged interest in the history of their state and community. The thirty-five members participated in a project for the annual regional historical contest or wrote an article for the Illinois History magazine. Another project of the club was the writing of letters to county historical societies throughout the state to gather information.

Ten members of the Social Studies Club, with the guidance of Mr. William Gushleff and Mr. William Hart, held an ecology drive every fourth Saturday of the month. They conducted many bake sales and took polls dealing with politics and ecology.

Members of the Photography Club were sometimes spotted walking around campus, with their cameras clicking away. New techniques of both taking and printing pictures were just a part of what the members learned. Guest speakers came to talk and help them in whatever they wanted to know about photography. Their biggest ambition came true when a new darkroom was built in House "B". With a camera in hand, off the club went to enjoy a day at Six Flags. A hard but profitable project came late in the year when they took the Prom pictures. The club was sponsored by Mr. Arch Montgomery.

Clubs cater to interests

The meeting place was in House A; the time was Monday at 3:30. The Amateur Radio Club met every week in House A, better known as the Radio Shack. The members could go there any time of the day to talk with other radio operators all over the country. The members were instructed in Morse Code and radio theory which enabled them to obtain a license from the Federal Commission of Communication. The club was sponsored by Mr. Dave Bobzin.

The Chess Club was honored by becoming a member of the United States Chess Federation, a nationwide chess organization. The U.S. C.F. sponsors tournaments and publishes a monthly magazine called "Chess Life and Review." The teams played in the Alton Invitational Chess Tournament and proudly brought back five individual trophies. They also played in the Southwestern Conference Tournament and with various other schools in the area throughout the year. Members played such games as Roulette Chess, Ten-second Chess, Double Chess, and Swiss System Tournaments. An interesting project innovated by the club was a postal chess match with eight "residents" of Menard Prison. These games are continuing into the summer.

New at West at this year, the Stamp Club endeavored to become an established organization on campus. The ten members of the Stamp Club gained knowledge of the history and culture of the different areas of the world by obtaining new stamps. They aided each other in their search for unusual postal stamps. Beside collecting philatic material, the club viewed various slide presentations. Talks and exhibits on foreign stamps by Mr. George Warren, French instructor, also highlighted many Stamp Club meetings.

Business clubs

The Office Occupations Club is for students who have career interests in clerical, stenographic, and bookkeeping jobs. Not only have they printed programs for all home basketball games, but they brought Christmas cheer to Memorial Nursing Home residents. The members have participated in area conferences, area and state contests, and have had winners in all areas. The Belleville businessmen who gave jobs to the club members were given an employer appreciation banquet. Miss Faye Pabst, the sponsor, took the club to a State Leadership Conference in March.

The award winners were: Eve Walden, first in general clerical; Mary Tylka, third in data processing, and Debbie Hildebrand first in stenography. First place awards were eligible for statewide competition.

Have you ever been "ripped off" on something that seemed to be a good deal? On campus a new club has come into existence. It was organized to stimulate student and community interest in consumerism. This is the Consumer Education Club, sponsored by Mr. Larry Obenchain. Activities consisted of checking various stores for the purpose of comparing retail prices with basic list prices.

The Distributive Education Club is a branch of the national organization. Every senior participating must have had experience in a variety of business courses. They competed in area contests in which many of the members turned up winners and represented West at the State Leadership Conference in February. Under the direction of Mr. Tom Ninnis, sponsor, marketing research was done for the Gilbert Research Company.

O'Donnell, Gloria Determan, Jim Boucher, Leslie Dobbs, Kathy Midden-dorf, Nancy Kremmel, Kim Helwig, Paula Meyer, and Mr. Tom Ninnis, sponsor.

What the future holds depends on you yourself

Cutting and hauling wood was a hard job, but it earned money for the F.F.A.

The goal of the Future Farmers of America is to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. More students are becoming interested in agriculture and the club, sponsored by Mr. Harold Hall, was very active in projects ranging from chopping and delivering firewood to attending the Agricultural World Show and the National Conference in Kansas City.

Do students ever think of what teachers go through during the school day? Probably not, because they are concerned with their own problems. The Future Teachers of America tried to familiarize its members with what a teacher has to do. With the aid of their sponsors, Mrs. Ann Moore and Mr. Dennis Butts, the members held a banquet and went to summer workshops.

Girls interested in homemaking found an active organization in the Future Homemakers of America. Under the guidance of Mrs. Helen Closson, the activities of the club included regular visits to nursing homes and bowling parties.

"Bonjour"

The French Club planned campouts where conversational French was spoken by all students during the entire weekend. They learned to speak French more fluently and also learned more vocabulary. The club obtained films for the classes to see and also participated in the Mardi Gras, along with the Spanish and German Clubs.

Hallo ¡Buenos Dias!

The German Club opened the year with a new sponsor, Frau Clark, and a September get-acquainted picnic at Bellevue Park. Anyone who had taken or was taking German was eligible to be a member. The Octoberfest highlighted the fall season which was followed by the annual caroling and Christmas party. All members enjoyed the annual visit in May to Eberhardt's Restaurant in Columbia, Illinois.

Spanish Club members enjoyed sampling unusual fruits from Latin America. The traditional Day of the Dead ceremony and Pinata Party were also celebrated. The Spanish Club, together with the German Club, celebrated Carnival, as the Spanish say, or Fashing, as the Germans call it, with costumes and good food.

German and Spanish Club members who participated in Fashing or Carnival enjoyed, among other things, folk dancing.

Little Theater, open to all students, exemplified talent on stage and backstage. Co-sponsors Miss Jane Mueth, Mrs. Janet Kuehn, and Mrs. Debbie Stieneker directed the company of two hundred and fifty. Theater productions included the Freshman One-Acts, the Little Theater play, "Dark of the Moon," the sophomore production of "Cinderella," "The New Play" for the state contest, and the Senior musical, "1776." Theater members also added to the Hobo Day activities with a skit.

The Thespian Troupe 369 rewarded outstanding students for their work in theater. To become a member one must work two hundred hours on plays, one hundred of which must be backstage. The new members are announced after the theater play and the spring musical.

The Troupe of twenty-seven started out their active year with a mini-float victory on Hobo Day. They held the annual Christmas progressive dinner and started an alumni organization for past Thespians.

"Dark of the Moon" explored the supernatural.

The purpose of the forty-two members of the National Forensic League was to learn to be an effective speaker and a successful and more influential citizen. To become a member a student must rank in the upper half of his class and attain twenty-five points for speaking experiences. Every year the members host an invitational speech and debate tournament, one of the largest in Illinois. This year they were named one of the top twenty-five outstanding chapters in the nation. They also won the Illinois "Leading Chapter Award".

The speech program called Individual Events was started in 1960. This year thirty-five members participated and had an opportunity for competitive speaking and developing skills in communication. To become a member one must compete in the tournaments and attend practice sessions. The speakers won fifth place out of thirty-five schools attending the Bloomington tournament and third place out of thirty-eight schools at the Peoria Richwoods tournament.

“And Then There Was Song...”

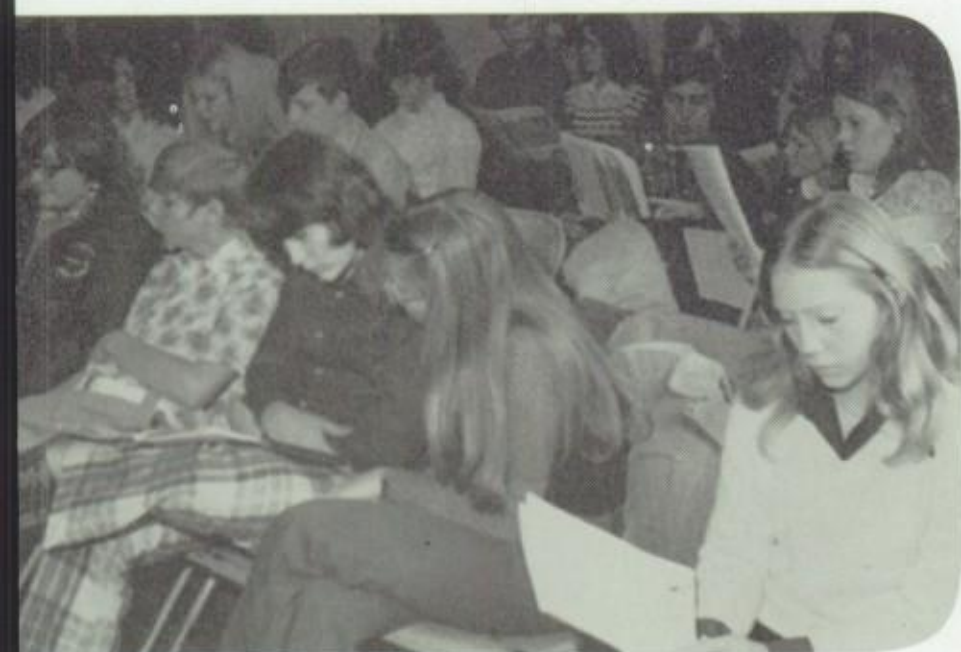

Under the direction of Mr. Don Jones, the Concert Choir presented two concerts: “Song for a Winter Day” on January 13 and the spring concert “And Then There Was Song” on April 26. A double album was made from each of these concerts. The choir held several bake sales to help diminish the cost of the albums. Other vocal groups joined Concert Choir in the annual “Festival of Songs” concert held on March 22. The Choir traveled to SIU Edwardsville on April 2 to sing with the Concert Chorale under the direction of Dr. Van Camp. They also sang at area grade schools during Music week and at the Baccalaureate Service. For the first time in the history of the school, the Choir’s Christmas caroling and Christmas assemblies were cancelled due to snow. Somewhere during the diligent 5th hour practices Concert Choir found time to decorate the hall downstairs in the Cafeteria for Hobo Day and won second place. But in vocal ability the choir was second to none.

Other members of the Choir were: (Bottom Row) Jeff Mueth, Lisa Hawkins, Steve Munie, Lynn Naumann, Jena Haskins, David Thompson, Susan Seger, Lisa Watson. Singing was a favorite past-time for many

The Remon Singers tried to find out if Santa Claus could really sing.

The group known as the Remon Singers was composed of the men's ensemble and the women's ensembles, known as the In-Sept Sextet and the Casuals Sextet. This group represented the school at all types of gatherings. They sang for civic organizations and went caroling over the holidays. The singers were directed by Mr. Donald Jones.

The Choraleers group was made up of both men and women, while Choralettes were strictly women. The purpose of these groups was to improve musical abilities and to help members move into Concert Choir. They held concerts and had it not been for the snow "holidays", they would have sung at the Christmas assemblies.

Orchestra members were: (Bottom Row) Cydney Kirk, Annette Bohannon, Joyce Armstrong, Jody Jourdan, Megan Shaw, Penny Davinroy. “We are the music makers, we are the dreamers of dreams . . .”

The Orchestra provided an opportunity for musically-talented students to study and perform symphonic works. The seventy-five piece orchestra met every day the fifth hour under the direction of Mrs. Gloria Mayer. Projects of the group ranged from cutting records of the fall and spring concerts to participating in the mini-float competition on Hobo Day.

Other activities included fall and spring banquets, held respectively at the Stoplight Restaurant and at the NCO Club at Scott Air Base, and the sale of sno-cones at the AFS Carnival in the spring.

The Chamber Orchestra provided a wide variety of popular and classical music for advanced musicians. Under the direction of Mrs. Mayer, the twenty-five piece ensemble performed for the Honor Society initiation ceremony, PTA and church functions, and meetings.

The Symphonette was set up by Mrs. Mayer to provide more experience for young players. The group helps beginners to practice their skills and gives those with class scheduling problems a chance to perform in a group during the first period every day.

Maroons Stepping Out

In any country, the Marching Band is #1.

One hundred and twenty Marching Maroons returned in June from a ten-day trip to Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, where they earned a First Place trophy at the Manisphere Contest. The award was a fitting climax to months of chicken fries, paper drives, and bake sales that band members conducted to raise money for the trip to Canada.

The group performed for all home football games, marched in community parades such as the Santa Claus parade, and presented concerts during the year. They ended the year with a performance at the commencement ceremonies on Tuesday, June 4.

The Pep Band tuned up before the game to provide a better sound for basketball fans.

Digging the beat from head to toe, the Marching Maroons practiced routines barefooted last summer in the Stadium.

The Stage Band, directed by Mr. Ralph Schlesinger, helped its members to become familiar with pop and jazz music. The group performed at various community functions and pep assemblies. To prove their talents they also performed at contests and in concerts.

Under the direction of Mr. Schlesinger, the Concert Band gave two concerts for the public. This was the group that prepared musicians for an audition with the Marching Band. Practicing and more practicing was their daily activity.

Musicians willing to volunteer their talents at basketball games and pep assemblies were recognized as members of the Pep Band. Encouraging these eager musicians was their director, Mr. Schlesinger.

Maroons all the way!

The Pep Club, game after game, supported our teams on to victory. They posted signs before each game and sold spirit items. Their money making projects included bake sales and a dance. Free buses to the away-games were also sponsored by them. To encourage more students to ride with them and support West, the club paid the way into the game for the first thirty non-Pep Club members who signed up to ride on the bus. This proved to be very successful. To honor the teams, the club held three "Breakfast of Champions." On Tuesday of Hobo Day week, they challenged the senior girls in the annual Powder Puff football game and came out ahead, 8-0.

After four years' existence, the intramural program was still a great success. Mrs. Mary Besse coordinated the girls' programs while Coach Pete Hensel headed the boys'. "K.K. Has P.P." captured two first places, in basketball and field hockey. "The Ripped Ones" ripped off first place in boys' football. The "Roots" captured their first place in the boys' basketball division while the "Golden Stars" reached their "goal" and stole first place in boys' soccer. The "PBR's" emerged victorious in the volleyball intramurals.

Girls get into the action

For the first time in history the school supported two track teams, a boys' and a girls'. The girls' track team, organized by Mrs. Patt Snelson and co-sponsored by Mrs. Felicia Fuch, began each day at 7:30 a.m. with calisthenics and running the track. After completing these warmups each girl went to their respective events. Such events included dashes, relays, hurdles, distance running, shot put, discus, and long and high jump. Each girl was allowed to enter a maximum of four events and after four weeks of practice an intramural-type program was held. The top three girls from each event joined together to form the girls' track team. They participated in the district track meet sponsored by the Illinois High School Association and held on May 11 and also in the state meet which followed on May 17-18. Although many girls did not make the team they kept practicing with them. If they got better they replaced one of the original girls on the team.

Cheerleaders are champions again

The cheerleaders won first place in the Centralia Tournament for the sixth time in seven years.

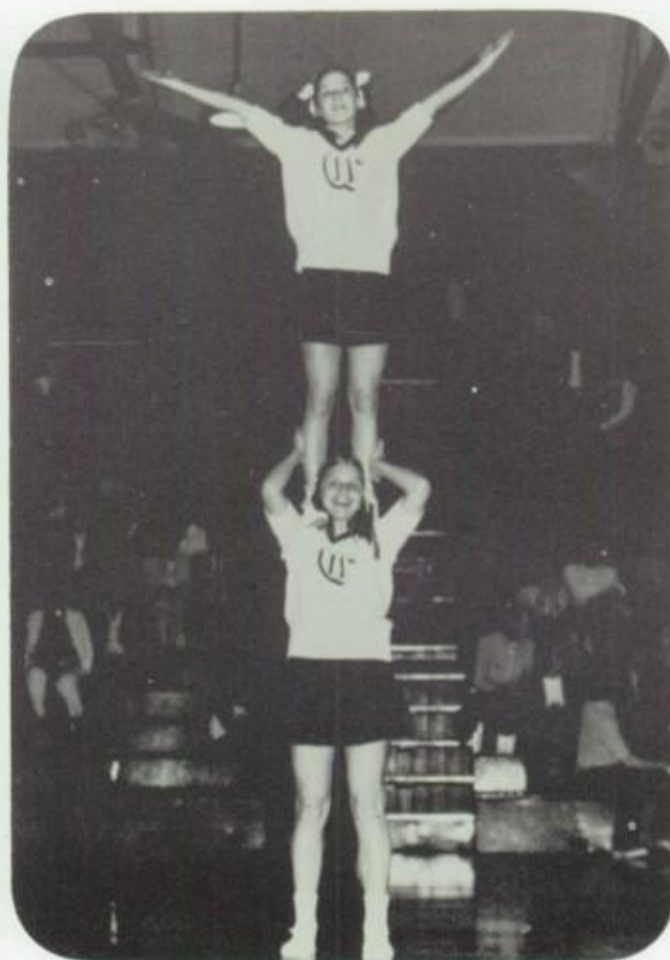

To be a winner required the close supervision and motivation provided by their coach Mrs. Merle Guthrie. She instilled a winning confidence in each cheerleader. Some of their responsibilities included cheering at the games, planning, decorating, and performing at the assemblies, decorating the locker rooms, and performing at Freshmen orientation.

The cheerleaders found out that it takes a lot to be good and even more to be great. That is what they were — Great!

Athletes seek Christianity

The fifty-five members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes confronted athletes and coaches, with the challenge and adventure of following Christ. To become a member one must believe in Christ and his teachings and have earned a letter on any level in sports.

The projects that the FCA were active in were the big brother program, a hay ride, the annual banquet in February, the sale of soda and candy at the football and basketball games, the "Lancermobile", and the FCA weekend in Missouri. All of the money made on the projects and activities went toward making it possible for boys to attend summer camp in Fort Collins, Colorado.

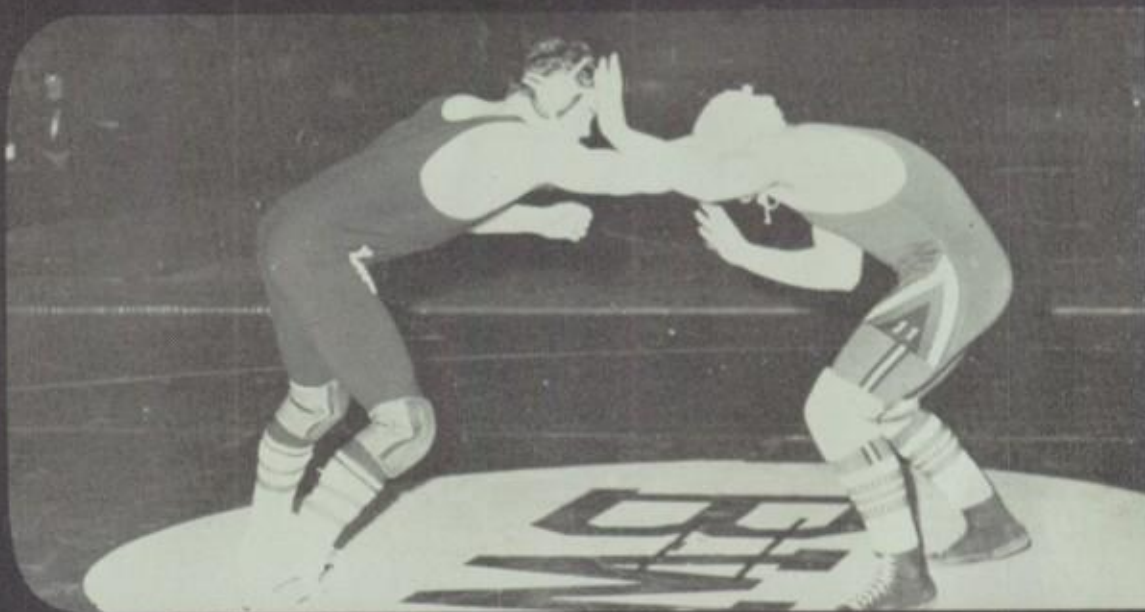

The FCA made the Lancermobile unique by using an ambulance to symbolize victory over Belleville East.

Cross country champions

Under the coaching of Mr. Norm Armstrong and with eleven returning lettermen, the team completed another winning season. Once again the Maroons are the City Champions, having never lost to BTHS East. West also took second place in both the strong Southwestern Conference and in the St. Clair County meets.

Both of the co-captains were chosen All Metro-East standouts, with Paul Weilmuenster on the first team and Gary Stapf on the second. The season ended with a 175 win-22 loss record.

Desire to win proves successful as

The Maroons continued the proud tradition of Belleville West under Head Coach Bruce Arnold and his assistants, Pete Hensel, Dave Harris, and Keith Lawrence. They captured the city championship for the third consecutive year and took second place in the Southwestern Conference.

Hard work, dedication, and determination paid off well as the gridders were the #1 Associated Press Downstate Team and #6 in the United Press International ratings.

Many factors contributed to the success of this team. The tri-captains, Steve Adams, Bill See, and Tom Sims, encouraged and led by example. Their dedication inspired the whole team.

In team statistics, we had the #1 offensive team in the area for the second consecutive year. The blitzkreig had 3,472 total yards and 283 points, while the samurai unit allowed only 1,859 yards (169 yards per game) and 119 points. Individual statistics included Mitch Keller being high tackler with 94. Scott McIlravy had the most solo tackles with 27. Joe Holtgrewe was the leading rusher in the Metro-East area with 1,194 yards. Gary Range tied the school record with 7 TD's and also the single game record of 3. He was the leading touchdown receiver in Metro-East. Interceptions highlighted our season as Steve Adams led the team with four pick-offs. Doug Dobbs averaged 74.1% on points after touchdowns.

Their "never-say-die" spirit remained with them throughout the year and conquered many of their challenges, although Turkey Day found them on top in everything but the score.

This year's team demonstrated that it is the desire from within that determines excellence.

The offense pulls through — AGAIN!

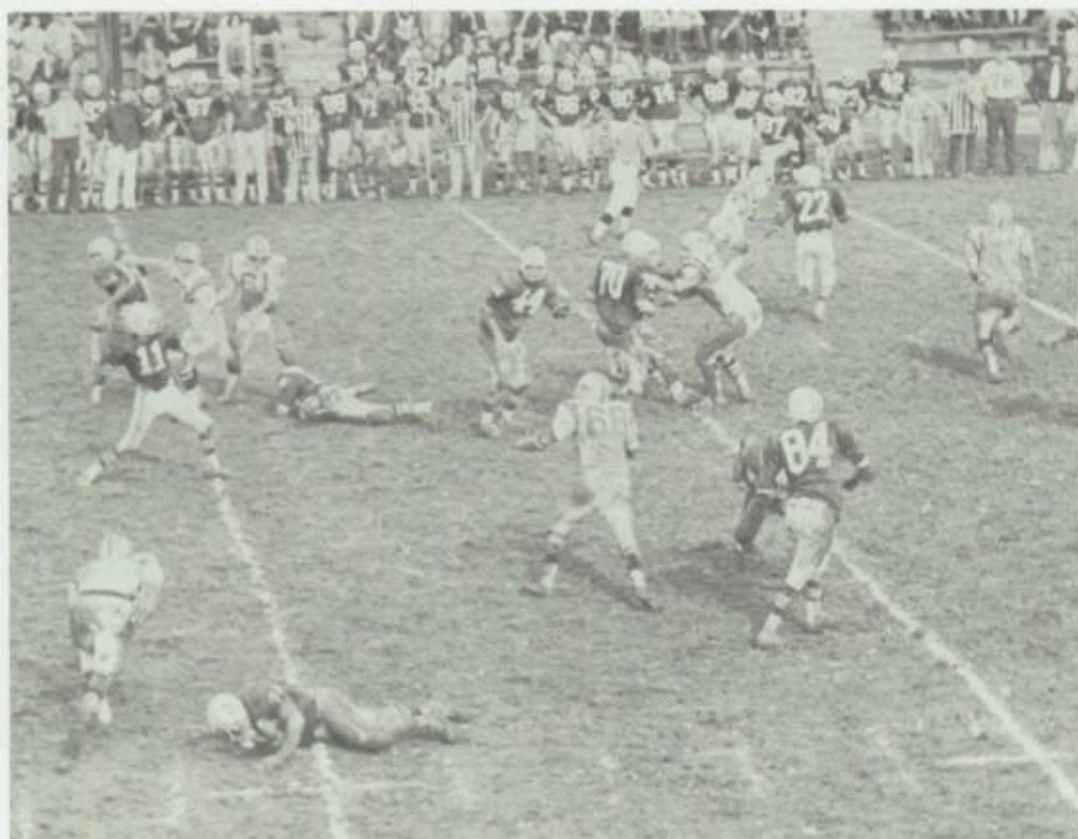

The strong linesmen enabled Gary Range to get through with the ball.

Muscles and quick reflexes aid

Wrestling is one of the more individualized of all sports. Either you beat your opponent on your own, or you don't win. The three two-minute periods find the wrestlers sweating, moaning, moving, and giving one hundred percent of themselves to win that crucial match. Coached by Mr. John Wehmeier, who is in his first year as head coach, and his assistants Mr. Garry Brandt and Mr. Bob Vitek, the varsity grapplers finished their season with fifteen wins and four losses. Tournament results were just as impressive as we finished first in the Mascoutah Invitational and also in the I.H.S.A. District meet. The Southwestern Conference found our Maroons capturing third place.

Individual accomplishments are important factors in the success of a season. Bryan Mitchell finished his senior wrestling season with twenty-seven wins and five losses, which included first in district, second at sectional, and a one win-two loss record at the state tournament. Bryan was the only Maroon wrestler to compete in the state finals.

Besides Bryan, his twin brother Bruce and Lloyd Thompson also captured first place honors at the district tournament.

The Holtgrewes are all smiles as Joe presents his parents their gifts on Senior Night.

The basketball team had much to be proud of, including being one of the top sixteen teams in the state. Behind first-year Head Coach Roger Mueller, we finished the season with twenty wins and ten losses. This includes winning second place in the sixteen-team Centralia Holiday Tournament, third in the Belleville East Invitational, first in the regional and sectional tournaments, and that unthought-of trip to the supersectionals in Carbondale.

Eight lettermen returned from the previous year. They were Don Barton, Mark Hargis, Joe Holtgrewe, Tim Katzmack, Bill Schmidt, and Dave Wild, seniors, and Rusty Lisch and Milton Wiley, juniors. Co-captains were Bill Schmidt and Milton Wiley.

Milton Wiley scored 540 points this season and is one of only two juniors in this area to be heading into his final year of varsity competition with more than 1,000 points for a career. He was the top Maroon scorer with an eighteen-point average. Bill Schmidt and Wiley each had high game points of twenty-nine. Schmidt's average was 16.9 points per game, hitting 48% from the field. Don Barton led in rebounding with 256, although Schmidt had game high rebounds of nineteen against Collinsville in the sectional.

Seniors lead Maroon hardballers with Another striking pitch thrown by Rob Pietroburgo.

A double play executed by Dennis Watt and Bill Schmidt—a familiar scene on the Maroon team.

As has become the tradition at West, the Maroon hardballers once again fielded a state-contending team. Coaches Chuck Hasenstab and George Shea had ten returning lettermen from last year's team, which finished second in the state. Twelve seniors led the team, which is unusual.

A new edition to the team was batgirls. These were girls who volunteered for the job, which consisted of keeping score, chasing foul balls, and handling the bats. Two girls assisted at each game.

The line-up consisted of Jim Strausbaugh and Dave Gaither at first base, Bill Schmidt and Steve Lidisky at second base, Tim Katzmark and Mike Dinga at third.

The shortstop position was held by Dennis Watt and Scott Miller.

Brad Will, Gary Range, Rich Engel, and Milton Wiley composed the outfield. Pitching was the Maroons strength with return of starters Mark Hargis, Don Barton, Rob Pietroburgo, and relievers Dennis Watkins, and juniors Chuck Fairbairn and Jim Richards. Catchers were Mike Muskopf and Bruce Smith.

Heavy rains in the beginning of the season allowed the Maroons to play only two games before the yearbook had to go to press, winning them both. With many games ahead, the hardballers count on their spirit, pride, and dedication to bring them success.

The cindermen won all their meets thus far, including first place in the Belleville East Invitational. With ten returning lettermen, Coaches Norm Armstrong, Gary Carr, Keith Lawrence, and Woody Burnett had much to work with.

Individual dedication and the love of running and jumping is essential for a winning team. Tom Sims was the leading shot put thrower, Mark Cox led in discus, Paul Weilmuenster and Gary Stapf were the distance runners, with Terry Kaemmerer, Jeff Dixon, and Rick Dees supplying the power in the 440 and 880. Long, triple, and high jumps and high hurdles were led by Rusty Lisch. Pole vaulting required the joy of height and Al Kronenberger enjoyed height the best. IN MEMORIAM

Mr. Dale Fertig

Faculty member of the Audio-visual Department since 1968

Died of a sudden heart attack on January 20, 1974

Charles Guetterman

Freshman Class

Died of an accident on February 8, 1974

"In one sense there is no death.
The life of a soul on earth lasts beyond his departure.
You will always feel that life touching yours,
that voice speaking to you,
that spirit looking out of other eyes,
talking to you in the familiar things he touched,
worked with, loved as familiar friends.
He lives on in your life and in the lives of all others that knew him."

— Angelo Patri

BTHS West is indebted to those who have given generously of their talent, time, and energy to help make our school a worthwhile educational process and a decent place. We appreciate all that their dedication to work has done for us.

Bellevinois memories . . .

A look into the Bellevinois Staff room brought one word to mind—chaos! As we reflect back over the year on destruction—no, that was construction!—it is no wonder we were usually in a state of delirious confusion!

During our first few months we learned many valuable things along with the structure of a yearbook, such as, spilled popcorn is called “company waste” . . . don’t be in the dark room when the lights are turned off . . . knocking over Miss Hansleben’s plants could prove to be a fate worse than death!

Our selection of a theme and cover was the result of weeks of discussion. Finally it was time to put our abstract ideas into the yearbook. Cooperation in the committees was at times difficult but everyone was working toward the same goal. Pages . . . pictures . . . paragraphs . . . production was moving! Our photographers, always in demand, succeeded in being four places at the same time. As time was running out a few tempers flared but we discovered that we still worked well under extreme pressure. Out of the rumble of the staff room could be heard: “If I ever get my pictures I’m gonna have a party!” “Is it Bottom Row or First Row or Top Row or Last Row,” “What do you mean you lost the negatives?!” “The deadline was when?!” Then it was over.
